Villain: Yes! The invisibility cloak is mine!!!

Wren: Oh no!..... Is that bad? What does that mean?

Villain: It means you fool, that I can finally become invisible!

Wren: Oh no..... That's not the invisibility cloak. We can still see you!

Villain: No you can't

Wren: Yes we can

Villain: Oh, well then I guess the other two things are useless then

Wren: The stone! The wand!

Villain: Oh these things? I just found them in a chest with a piece of paper that says if I get the invisibility cloak and put these three things together I can be an almighty wizard!!! But if this isn't the invisibility cloak then these two won't work

Wren: Can we have them then? We've been struggling to do this quest for the headmaster for the last 3 months and these items could really, really, really, help us get over that final step. Clearly you don't need them. Our quest is for the good of the Wizarding World, not whatever evil you'll get up to.

Villain: Let me try to cast one spell first. I've always wanted a magic wand. Invisibility cloak! Aw man! It didn't work.

Wren: The Charms Professor said Swish and flick.

Villain: INVISIBILITY CLOAK! Still nothing. I suppose you can have it, it doesn't even work for me.

Wren: Wow the elder wand is supposed to be the most powerful wand in all the world!

Villain: Is it now? Well maybe I'll keep it then Evil Laugh

Wren: Counter offer, how about we do a trade

Villain: A trade, what are you offering?

Wren: Ahhhh? You can have the key to this ahh, this chest!

Villain: As in the one you just opened? And emptied all these treasures out of?
